Mission

The core mission of Bose Institute can be summarized in the words of our founder, Acharya J. C. Bose, “The advancement of science and also the diffusion of knowledge are the principal objectives of the Institute”. Our mission is to provide a unique platform for cutting edge interdisciplinary scientific research, both basic and applied, its dissemination among the society and human resource development for a modern India. By encouraging interdisciplinary sciences, Bose Institute strives to perform seamless research, as perceived by our founder and the first inter-disciplinary scientist, which could lead to complete and in-depth understanding of scientific problems.

Vision

The vision of Bose Institute is best captured in the declaration of the Acharya J. C. Bose's foundation day speech on November 30, 1917, "I dedicate today this Institute – not merely a laboratory but a temple". Acharya's dream vision was to set up a research institute where Indians could carry out scientific research, the backbone of any modern society, unhindered by the colonial masters. The vision was not only the advancement of science by Indian scientists, but also the diffusion of the generated knowledge among the larger society, to build a self-reliant and modern India.

Functions and Duties: The objectives of the Society are as follows: -

- (1) The advancement of knowledge by means of research.
- (2) The diffusion of knowledge by organizing discourses, demonstrations and lectures to be given original workers in it and thinkers.
- (3) To do all such things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects or any of them.

Duties of Director

The Director is the Head of the Institute. Subject to the overall control of the Council, it shall be the duty of the Director to carry on the objects and business of the Institute in accordance with the Regulations and Byelaws of the Institute and other rules framed by the Council from time to time. In the day to day administration of the Institute, the Director shall be the final authority. He shall bring to the notice of the Council at the meeting for its confirmation any action, which in emergency, he may have found necessary to take to run the Institute. The Director may also issue Standing Orders to regulate the activities of the Institute and the staff attached thereto. In academic matters, it shall be his responsibility to maintain and improve the level of excellence of the work of the Institute and for this purpose he shall have the right to give advice and direction whenever necessary. On the administration side, despite the functions delegated to the Registrar directly by the Regulations and Byelaws and/or to be delegated in the future, Director's decision shall be the final in all matters until in any particular case the Council has a different view and suggest modification. He shall maintain the hierarchical and vertical devolution of authority from the Chairman of the Department, Registrar and downwards.

Duties of Registrar

- To act as the Chief Administrative Officer of the Institute including the RSIC, with overall charge of the Establishment, Administration and Accounts.
- To act as Secretary of the Council, Finance Committee, the Selection Committees and of such other Committees as may be provided by the Regulations, Byelaws or otherwise. To prepare in consultation with the Director the agenda for and issue notice of the meetings of the bodies and to draft the corresponding minutes of the meetings.
- To remain in general charge of the office and day-to-day administration and of (a) Group 5 staff of the Institute, and (b) such other non-research staff of the Institute, the supervision of whose work may be delegated to him by the Director, and to exercise such disciplinary control as may be necessary for the purpose.
- To be responsible for the maintenance and upkeep of the Institute buildings and equipments, furniture and fittings and to be in charge of the lands allotted to the Institute.
- To be responsible for submitting the draft Budget to the Finance Committee for consideration and to the Council for sanction.
- To sign cheques as provided for in the Regulations and Byelaws.
- To sign contracts entered into by or on behalf of the Institute, as provided for in the Regulations and Byelaws.
- To assist the Director in discharge of his work in the Institute and to perform such other duties as mentioned in the Regulation and Byelaws and/or as may be assigned to him by the Director or delegated to him by the Council, consistent with Regulations and Byelaws.

DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CHAIRMAN OF A DEPARTMENT

- (a) The Chairman of a Department shall be In Charge of Administrative duties of the department and be responsible for its smooth and efficient functioning. It shall be his/her duty to see that a high standard of research work is maintained in the department.
- (b) He shall act as the representative of the department at the meetings of Chairmen of Departments with the Director and shall place there the views and requirements of members of his department.
